Old Glory Waves.

countrymen and I bid you advance to it. Hand in hand may you go, you of the home race with those whose father's land this was, and whose generous virtues have won for them the regard of all mankind. Hand in hand may you go with them as they carry with them their unfaltering love of country into the broad plane of American citizenship.

"Advance to the uplifting and upbuilding of this land to prove it worthy to share the Destiny of the Great Republic.

"Empire may wait indeed, but no hand save his who holds in the hollow of his hand the fate of nations can stay that destiny:

"God bless you my countrymen!"

"God bless the United States of America!"

The oath of allegiance to the United States was then administered by Chief Justice Judd to President Dole as "President of the Republic of Hawaii, now a territory of the United States" and to Ministers Cooper, Smith, Damon and King and the ceremonies of the day were over.

EXCHANGE OF FLAGS.

As the Hawaiian flag came down the Hawaiian National Guard's color sergeant, D. L. Nason, slowly furled the regimental flag which had been carried, decorated with a fringe of yellow leis, in escorting the United States naval battalion from the landing to the Executive grounds.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies at the capitol, the Hawaiian National Guard was escorted by the naval battalion to the parade ground in front of the drill shed. There the forces were formed in a hollow square. President Dole and his staff, the members of the Cabinet and Chief Justice Judd, with ladies accompanying the officials, stood at the right of the Hawaiian line.

Minister Cooper, Colonel Fisher and staff, and the field and line officers stood in the midst of the square. Minister Cooper administered the oath of allegiance to Colonel Fisher, who in turn performed the same function toward the officers. Addresses were delivered to the officers by Minister Cooper and Colonel Fisher, but no reporter had been admitted within earshot.

Then, at the reviewing stand point, Chief Justice Judd administered the oath to Colonel Soper and the other officers on the President's staff.

Captain J. W. Pratt was carrying a furled American flag. After the swearing in, the President and the standard bearer walked to the position occupied by Colonel Fisher. The flag was unfurled and given into President Dole's hands. With a few appropriate remarks the President presented the flag to Colonel Fisher, and Color Sergeant Nason being called out received the glorious emblem from the colonel's hands.

President Dole then addressed the regiment at some little length, but the buzz of the multitude confined the hearing to the soldiers.

The American flag thus becoming the regimental colors is a gift to the Hawaiian National Guard from the U. S. S. Boston. It is a goodly standard of silk, but its five years in camphor has dimmed the lustre of the red stripes. Their color is now a soft magenta.

These ceremonies having ended the Hawaiian regiment escorted the naval battalion to the boat landing, the Philadelphia and Hawaiian bands playing inspiring music.

MINISTER SEWALL'S POSITION.

He is Now Special Agent of the United States Government.

Harold M. Sewall read himself out of office today as U. S. Minister to Hawaii. His position now is that of Special Agent of the United States Government to conduct correspondence between the home government and the government here. The United States Consulate will continue under Consul General Haywood's charge. The American Legation is no more.

SEWALL CHRISTENING.

Mr. Sewall's Second Son Will be Arthur Sewall.

One of the most important events in Minister Sewall's residence was the christening of Mr.

and Mrs. Sewall's second and youngest son held at 4:30 Friday afternoon.

Arthur Sewall is the child's name, in honor of Hon. Arthur Sewall his grandfather. Chaplain Thompson of the Mohican performed the ceremony. Admiral Miller and Miss Newlands stood as godparents.

CELEBRATION NOTES.

Immediately after the retirement of the troops, Japanese day fireworks were started on the Executive building grounds. Of course the first piece shot up was "Old Glory."

The Sharpshooters Company assembled in a position on the lawn to the left of the driveway. They cheered as the American flag went up.

The flag received from the Chamber of Commerce in San Francisco, by the local organization of the same kind, was raised over the hall on Merchant street at 12 noon.

Two wagonette loads of celebrators started out this afternoon on pleasure bent. They had the Quintet Club to assist them.

The flag that "Paramount" Commissioner Blount had lowered from the Judiciary building—then the Executive headquarters—on April 1, 1893, was hoisted at 12 m upon the identical flagstaff from which it was then hauled down.

The Mounted Reserve militia command and the Mounted Police were drawn up facing the King street gate as the troops arrived. There were about fifty men in the Mounted Reserve, Captain W F Dillingham being in command and C H W Norton the adjutant of squadron. There were sixteen privates and three officers in the Mounted Police, Captain Spilner commanding and Chas Huston first lieutenant.

G W R King made an elegant job of the official stand decorations. There shields of the flags of the "Two Republics" at intervals, also rosette of the same emblems, stars and stripes bunting covering all the intervening spaces.

The liberty bell inkstand used at the swearing of officials this afternoon is a miniature copy in bronze of the famed bell of Independence Hall, Philadelphia; including the inscription: "Proclaim Liberty Throughout the World," and "1776" in large letters below the first word.
